

TWIMC,

I cannot believe that this issue is even open. (04-160). Xm is a pay for service and I!!!!!! pay for it. I can't conceive that this is being challenged by the NAB. On what grounds? Any that have merit, besides attempting to close the market that they so desperately are clinging on to? This would obviously be a form of antitrust.

I am urging the FCC to reject the NAB's proposal in 04-160 and further to reprimand the NAB for attempting to use a government agency to protect it's business (outside of competing fairly) and also attempting to control the airways, especially with respect to a pay-for service.
